

Ahrend Recharge

Collection

Mind off. Peace on. Recharge yourself.

Working is no longer tied to an office environment. We work where and when we want to. Whether that is in the lobby of an office, hospital, school or hotel. All we need is an internet connection with our telephone. At the same time, moments of rest become increasingly important for our health.

The Recharge Collection combines working and charging in one design. The round shape of the Recharge invites you to sit down. To work, to consult or to take a break. A moment to recharge: for yourself and your device. The flexible modules offer you the choice to do what you want. Stay in charge.

Sit down and Recharge

Step away from the crowds around you. Do you want to recharge yourself, but also your mobile device? The Ahrend Recharge Collection has an optional built-in wireless charger. This way you choose where you want to work or charge. For a vital environment where the focus is on human.

An energising design

Een speels, maar simpel design dat elke ruimte tot leven brengt. Ga voor één van de stijlvolle ton-sur-ton kleurencombinaties, waarbij de donkere tint onder komt en de lichte tint boven. Een intuïtief ontwerp dat uitnodigt om te zitten.

Mix & match

Which size do you choose? With three different sizes, the family of elements fits in every space. Larger elements fit perfectly in a lobby or reception area. The small poufs can be used at a workplace for a short consultation. All combinations are possible!

Public spaces are changing into comfortable places where we are productive and able to recharge at the same time. A flexible place where you are in charge.

Designer Basten Leijh

Basten Leijh is known for creating a timeless, characterful environment in which his designs seamlessly merge fun and functional ease. With his many years of experience as a product and concept developer, business partner and creative director within leading companies, and a number of brands he can call his own, Basten Leijh is considered an expert in the field of product design.

The design with which he graduated from the Design Academy in Eindhoven (The Netherlands) at the beginning of his career was immediately purchased by an international bicycle manufacturer.

Basten Leijh has been focusing on modular designs since 2010, thereby building unity in form. This unity in form runs like a thread through his designs for Ahrend and creates a connection between these different collections.

His talent for merging two separate worlds has led to the creation of a new design language. He has developed a bird's eye view that allows him to successfully combine brands from different industries, which is reflected in the lighting he has specially designed for Ahrend in collaboration with Modular Lighting Instruments.

Basten Leijh has received various awards for his work, and his designs have been displayed at a number of international exhibitions.

Colours and materials

The Recharge Collection can be upholstered in many ton-sur-ton colour combinations in fabrics from Kvadrat and Camira. The bottom half of the Recharge is upholstered in the dark shade, the upper half is upholstered in the light shade. Contact us for all colour combinations. We are happy to show them to you!
