Together folding table –
the fast track to flexibility

Business is changing all the time and at an ever increasing rate. The new buzz words for office design are flexibility, variability and creativity. Enlightened companies now organise their offices and office work in ways often unrecognisable from offices just a decade ago. It is clear that interiors shape the way in which people and teams work and interact with each other. This is where the Together table comes into its own – it has been designed specifically for the modern work environment. Use it for individual work, team work or coworking. Ideal for meetings, it can also be folded away in seconds to create space for other activities and functions. Be dynamic, get together.
